RR550/RR150

If you're looking for a guitar to put the accent back in your stage presence, then the Banzai Rocket II is your instrument. The new Rocket II models are bolder and sleeker than ever and for the first time in their history offer a choice of two tremolo systems — the Standard or "Hard Rocker Pro." Both the RR550 and RR150 are equipped with Smooth Tuner II machine heads, D-shaped strap pins, and Sure Grip II control knobs.

The RR550 features a select body with a book-matched Flame Maple top finished in Cherry Sunburst. Super BV pickups in the neck position and Sunderland bar V5 pickups in the bridge position give the RR550 more than enough power for high energy Rock and Roll. Top all this off with the Banzai "Hard Rocker Pro" tremolo system and you've got one mean axe.

The RR150 features a Spergulay finished body with a single piece of guitar body. Other features include an extra smooth, fast-playing, one-piece Rock Maple neck with a stylish V5 pickup in the treble position for the ultimate in hard-edged sound.

DT500/DT150

The Banzai Destroyer has long been a proven favorite among legions of seasoned Rock and Rollers. Its highly stylized body and advanced electronics provide the ultimate in playing comfort and all new rock sound. The new 1987 Destroyer offer the latest in Banzai innovations along with the most desirable "traditional" features found in many of our other models.

The DT500 is the ideal marriage between modern technology and old time craftsmanship. The body is crafted from Rosewood and is topped with bookmatched Flame Maple. The Cherry Sunburst finish and bound in Cream. The DT500's nut and neck is constructed of three pieces of Mahogany and features a Rosewood fingerboard for excellent playing ease. Super 56 and V2 pickups qualify the DT500 as a versatile Rock and Roll weapon. Also featured is the newly developed Banzai Shadow Single Bridge pickup, adding even more power to the DT500's already tremendous sustaining power.

The DT150 features one pick Rock Maple neck, the same nut and neck as the lighter DT Shadow Bridge pickup finished in Fire Red. Featuring V2 pickups in the bridge position plus the inclusion of an enhanced standard tremolo system, the DT150 is the axe for the 80's.
DT600

Due to an ever increasing demand for a bass that really looks like Rock and Roll, Ibanez now offers the Destroyer Bass. Equipped with many of the same features of the Destroyer guitar, the DT600 Bass is sure to move you from side line to center spotlight as soon as you take the stage. The DT600's lightweight Birch/Basswood body is superbly balanced for extra playing comfort even after hours of intense playing. A custom designed 32" scale neck, Super P4 pickups, Hercules B machine heads, plus Sure Grip II control knobs make the DT600 an absolute must for today's discern rockers.
